

San Diego Fourth of July Guide

2018

Celebrate Independence Day all weekend (and week!) long with fireworks, barbecues, cocktails, staycations, and more

Dine

Backyard Kitchen & Tap

Head to the PB bar on July 3 for a build-your-own taco bar from 5–10 p.m., $5 Pacifico, Modelo and Corona, and $8 Don Julio shots, plus a DJ spinning from 4 p.m. to close. Keep the party going on the July 4 with brunch, including drink specials like $7 Tito’s Bloody Marys and $4 Budweiser drafts. Be sure to stick around for their specialty BKYD BBQ from 2 to 8 p.m.

Price: Varies

Date: July 3-4

Location: 832 Garnet Avenue, Pacific Beach

Bub’s @ the Beach

From 11 a.m. to 1 a.m., dive into a basket of wings tossed in one of their specialty sauces, such as thai red curry, caribbean jerk, spicy teriyaki, and plenty more, for half-off. Wash it down with $4 Jameson, Fireball, Bud, Bud Light, or Goose IPA.

Price: Varies

Date: July 4

The Duck Dive

Located just steps from the sand, Pacific Beach’s premier lounge and eatery wants to say “Thank you for your service” by offering a 20 percent discount on tabs with a military ID. Come eat brunch, lunch, or dinner, or sip on a refreshing cocktail like the cucumber lemonade, with cucumber-infused Absolut Elyx, lemon, fresh mint, and agave.

Price: Varies

Date: July 4

Location: 4650 Mission Boulevard, Pacific Beach

Mavericks Beach Club

Kick off your Fourth of July at the new beach bar with party favors, décor, a photo wall, and Bomb Pops by the plenty. There will be a DJ all day and a special buffet menu with burgers, brats, chili, watermelon, and more.
